EQUIPMENT Service Food

There are three essential requirements of a first class restaurant.

The equipment must be pleasing to the eye.

The service must be quick and efficient, and

The food must be palatable.

At our well known restaurant, you will find all of these things as nearly perfect as human ingenuity can make them.

SHOW

At the Grand Opera House Last Night Well Attended.

A larger audience than the preceding night witnessed Mina Griffin's production of "Amy, the Circus Girl," at the Grand last night, where she is holding the boards with the King Stock Company all this week. Everyone went away satisfied and public opinion is that this is the best Stock Company ever seen on the local boards. Tonight Miss Griffin offers "Jane Eyre," a dramatization from the novel of Charlotte Bonte, Thursday night "St. Elmo."

up against one of the best resident sections in Clarksburg; as close to the paved street, Milford Road, as any other addition in the West End; closer to the street car line, and where cars run every 15 to 20 minutes; has gas, water and sewerage; lower priced lots, $250 to $600—terms easy; more accessible to city than any other addition; no street car fare to get to city; investigate for yourself and see if what we say in regard to the West End Land Company's Second Stealey Addition is not correct. We are selling them right along to good people, and more houses are being built in that addition than any other addition in the West End, besides the magnificent school house, the only school house in West End.
